Jenna 1. this is adorable. and this picture is really good for showing what things go together, the heart sprinkles and the hearts in the background and such.

Simplicity and Contrast: All of these designs are simple meaning they only contain one or two focal points. The colors of the background and the main focal points on all of them are all also contrasting.

Jenna the grey and blue washed out colors of the elephant really bring out the colors of his ears

Nicole I like the flow of all the pictures that makes you look all over the picture. It sort of hurts my eyes lol

Simplicity: Pretty self explanatory, one word in simple text in the middle of a plain colored rectangle. Simple shading is used to draw attention to the text.

Nicole this was a good picture to choose for simplicity because the word is the only thing on the page

Proximity: Similar photos are all around each other. Space creates relationship between them all, indicating their similarity.

Nicole I like that they all belong together more than stand alone. It makes you understand the bigger picture.

Jenna you did a good job at finding contrast for not just the color but the size too

AshleyandAaron Lewicki such a cute photo idea

Nicole This could also be simplicity because there is nothing really complex about the picture in general

Jenna the pillows match the walls showing nice proximity, good job!

Nicole It could also be repetition with the colors repeating throughout the different aspects of the room.
